

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

PREFACE.

IN OR upwards of half a century the late Mr. Wheler diligently occupied himself in the completion of one of the most remarkable local antiquarian collections ever formed by a single individual. The following pages, being merely, as the title intimates, a brief hand-list of these treasures, convey a very inadequate idea of their importance and value ; but as the construction of a more elaborate calendar would have required a considerable time, it was thought that a sketch of the contents of the collection would be an acceptable first-offering to the public, especially to the inhabitants of Stratford, who will not fail to appreciate the generosity of Miss Wheeler in presenting the Town with so important a gift, and the judgment which dictated the place of its locality. It would not only have been sad, and an injury to the local topographical literature, had these collections, formed by so much labour and anxiety, ever been dispersed ; but they would have lost much of their interest and value had they been allowed to depart from Stratford.

The late Robert Bell Wheeler was born at Stratford on January 1st, 1785, in the house in Old Town in which he continued to reside during his life, and where he died on July 15th, 1857, aged 72. His father, Mr. Robert Wheeler, his predecessor in his profession of a solicitor, entered the office of Mr. Bradley, the Town-Clerk, and a solicitor of large practice, in January, 1757. He died in August, 1819, aged 77. His son, the object of this notice, was articled to him, but, unlike most articled clerks, he served no part of his time in London, merely going there for about a month at the time of his admission. His affection for Stratford, and love for Shakesperian pursuits, were so intense that he never seemed to be happy out of his native town ; so that, in the whole course of his long life, he spent very little portion of his time indeed out of Stratford. In early life he was a member of the Stratford volunteer corps, and he afterwards became a commissioned officer, a lieutenant and quarter-master, in the third regiment of the Warwickshire local militia stationed at Stratford, in which capacity he was much esteemed by his brother officers and by Colonel Sheldon, then in command of the regiment.

Mr. Wheler's first work, and that by which he is chiefly known, is the admirably compiled "History and Antiquities of Stratford-upon-Avon," published in 1806. His next separate production was a "Guide to Stratford-upon-Avon," 1814, one which is well termed by a distinguished writer, "a very superior book to many which bear a similar title," Hunter on Shakespeare, i. 107. This was followed, in 1824, by his excellent sketch of the history of Shakespeare's Birth-place. Besides these works, he was the writer of several articles of interest in the "Gentleman's Magazine" and other periodicals.

His published works, however, form but a small part of the results of his labours, the extent of which will only be duly estimated by the careful examiner of the present collection. Upon his autograph manuscripts in this collection will henceforth rest his principal title to literary distinction, and in securing them for ever to Stratford, his surviving sister, Miss Anne Wheler, has paid the best possible tribute to his memory, and realized his own most probable aspirations.

COLLECTANEA DE STRATFORD.
4to. MS.

 This marvellous example of the results of the unrivalled industry and accuracy of the late Mr. Wheler, in 536 quarto pages, so minutely written, that a transcript in ordinary calligraphy would fill half-a-dozen volumes of a like size, well deserves to be placed in the fore-front of this little hand-list ; and the rather that we are enabled to add an excellent index to the principal contents of the volume, from the equally accurate pen of W. O. Hunt, Esq.

THE FALCON. The Falcon Inn was kept by Joseph Phillips in 1673: see a bill of his to the Corporation for Wine. He was a Witness to the conveyance from Lady Barnard's Trustees to Sir Edward Walker, of New Place, in 1675	277
J. Phillips resided at the Falcon in 1668. See his Token amongst the "Stratford Tokens" 155
On the 8th of June, 1657, Alice Bellamy and others convey to Richard * Phillips, of Stratford-on-Avon, Painter, a messuage or tenement, Gatehouse, Backside, and Garden, in the occupation of Bridgett Washbrook, Widow; situated in Chapel Street on the west part of said Street, the land of Hugh Taylor being on the south side, the land of the Bailiff, &c. on the north; the barn of said Alice Bellamy on the west.

* Richard Phillips was appointed by Sir Edward Walker, Garter principal King of Arms, to paint the King's Arms in all churches and chapels. See Wheler's MSS. "Collectanea de Stratford," p. 277. Query, was Richard Phillips father of the above Joseph?

These premises could not be the present Falcon Inn, which is bounded on the south by Scholars Lane, but might answer the description of the adjoining two houses, formerly one, which was bounded on the north by Corporation property, occupied by John Canning. Richard Phillips is conjectured by Captain Saunders to be the person who painted the first sign of the Falcon.

JORDAN, JOHN, called the Poet Jordan, died July, 1809, buried near the site of the Charnel House ; a tablet to his memory is over the site, at the back of Shakespeare's Monument	200

Richard Hickes. The Angel, his halfpeny.
n. d.

John Boulton, carrier. n. d.

Edward Rogers, bookbinder, 1668.

Tokens of provincial bookbinders are of unusual occurrence, and it is rather curious that Stratford should at so early a period have supported this special trade.

Thomas Taylour of Stratford-upon-Avon. n. d.

John Willmor. Stratford. n. d.

Daniel Mason, 1668. Grocers' Arms.

Daniel Mason. n. d.

Edward Smith in Stratford upon Avon. n. d.

A duplicate inferior example is also kept, because it is marked as having been found at the Birth-Place in 1862.

Richard Hunt, 1651 and 1667.

Borough of Stratford halfpenny, 1669.

“Agreed that 6 lbs. of halfpence be bought and stamped with the Corporation armes upon them, and delivered into the hands of the Chamberlynes to exchange the same, and what profit shall accrue by putting them forth shall be layed out for the benefitt of the poore.”—Corporation MSS., 1669.

There is an order dated October 1, 1669, “for other persons who have put forth halfpence, etc., to call them in under a penalty.”

A Shakespeare halfpenny. n. d.

Three Nuremberg tokens, two found at the Mill in 1855, the other (the one with a cross) on the site of Luddington Chapel in April, 1844.

Three silver coins of Charles the First, one of which is noted by Mr. Wheler as having been found in February, 1839, on taking down the old Workhouse in Henley Lane at the corner of Hell Lane.

A Queen Anne's farthing, 1714, of the common type.

A farthing of the year 1675, found in the garden of Shakespeare's Birth-Place, June, 1862.

3.

 SERIES of Roman Coins, first, second, and third brass, found at Stratford-on-Avon between the years 1800 and 1856. They consist of about eighty specimens, ranging from Germanicus, B.C. 15, to Gratianus, A.D. 367; including Nero, Vespasian, Antoninus Pius, Verus, Commodus, Philippus, Postumus, Gallienus, Maximianus, Claudius Gothicus, Tetricus, Constantine, Crispus, Decentius, Magnentius, and Gratianus. The only emperors whose coins appear among the series is Faustina the younger, wife of Marcus Aurelius. As usual with hoards of coins found in England, those of Constantine greatly preponderate ; in this instance about half the entire number belonging to the reign of that emperor. There are no remarkable or rare reverses in the collection, the most interesting being those of Antoninus Pius, with Britannia seated on a rock, and those struck by the usurping Roman governors Carausius and Allectus, in Britain.

All these, with one exception, were found at Stratford-on-Avon, the exception consisting of a third brass, VRBS . ROMA, with the wolf and twins on the reverse, found at Welcombe in 1831.

 SERIES of about forty Roman Coins, similar to the above, generally in bad condition. They were found at Stratford-on-Avon in various years before 1800.

5.

 HIRTEEN silver pennies of Henry the Third, all with short cross reverses, found at the Cross-on-the-Hill.

Forty-seven pennies of Edward I., Edward II., and Edward III., minted in various cities, none rare.
Found at the same place.

Eighteen groats and half-groats of Edward I., Edward II., and Edward III., fifteen minted at London, two at Canterbury, and one at York.
Found at the same place.

Ten groats, half-groats, and pennies of Henry V. and Henry VII., minted at Calais and Canterbury. Found at the same place.

These coins, and those in the two last articles, were kindly arranged by F. W. Fairholt, Esq., F.S.A.

MISCELLANIES collected by R. B. Wheler, including original papers by Jordan, inventory of the goods at Stratford College in 1796, handbills distributed at the Jubilee, papers respecting the gunpowder plot, 1605-6, inventory of the fixtures at New Place, 1753, brief for the fire, 1614, Extenta manerii de Veteri Stratford, 1252, pedigree of the Hart family, &c. In one volume, folio.

7.
